

Cornerstone University Journalism Institute

Journalism from a Christian Worldview • July 24-29, 2016

Hands-on Experience:

- Interviewing
- Writing stories in journalistic style
- News reporting
- Sports reporting
- Human interest story reporting
- Digital photography
- Opinion writing
- Poetry writing

Cool Stuff:

- Live in university dormitory
- Eat in the university dining hall
- Laptop computers and digital cameras provided
- Interaction with newsmakers who speak at CJI
- Organized recreational activities on campus
- Talk with newspaper reporters, editors, photographers
- Interact with news makers who speak at CJI

Each student will have their work published in the CJI Times!

*Russ Pulliam
Assoc. Editor, Indianapolis Star
CJI Instructor*

*Alan Blanchard, Ph.D.
Assoc. Professor Journalism
CJI Exec. Director*

Other Important Stuff:

- Camp begins Sunday afternoon, ending Friday noon
- Male and female students are housed separately from one another
- Chaperones will accompany students at all times
- Each student will have stories, photos published in the print, online CJI newspapers

- Optional - students may elect to earn 1 hour of university credit for extra fee
- All meals, lodging and study materials included
- Enrollment is capped at 24 students, apply today

616-222-1504
alan.blanchard@cornerstone.edu
www.cornerstone.edu/cornerstone-journalism-institute

For students who will have completed
8th, 9th, 10th, 11th, 12th grade by / before July 2016

— ask about our Adult track for 18-29 yr. olds —