29th Annual IAHE Home Educators' Convention | March 28 & 29, 2014

Darren Jones Workshops

Support Group Issues: Discrimination, Membership Requirements, and Religious Statements
Guard your support group against legal surprises! HSLDA attorney Darren Jones tackles concerns such as the Americans with Disabilities Act, civil rights law, and how to deal with sticky membership issues.

Teaching a Christian Worldview Through Literature: Reading Your Way to an Understanding of how Christians Look at Life, the Universe, and Everything
Join us as we look together at 2,000 years of Christian literature and discuss how to pass on a Christian worldview to our children using the riches of the past and present! Authors to be considered include three different Johns (Bunyan, Donne, and Calvin), poets and novelists, and theologians ranging from Athanasius to Lewis. Bring your own favorites, too!

The History of Homeschooling
Many new homeschoolers do not realize how dramatically homeschooling has grown and changed in the last 30 years. Come hear about the exciting victories and narrow escapes as God has worked to protect parents' freedom to teach their children at home.

Why Homeschool? A Homeschool Graduate's Perspective
Darren attended several different public schools, a private Christian school, and then was homeschooled for the last few years of his education. With his diverse educational experience, he and his wife have chosen to teach their own children at home, firmly believing that it is the best choice of education. Why? Come find out!